

Custom Prepaid Calling Cards

Provide additional revenue and promote school pride with NetWolves' high-quality customized prepaid calling cards.

Increase revenue for your institution from student long distance calling – on and off campus – with attractive custom prepaid calling cards from NetWolves. Part of a welcome packet in the fall, or commemorative cards associated with a student organization or a celebratory event, or branded cards for parents or donors, our prepaid long distance calling cards for students, faculty, and friends, customized for your institution or student organization, are among the lowest priced cards in the country and provide additional revenue for a college, university, school, or group. NetWolves' Custom Prepaid Cards allow an institution to put nearly any combination of photos, graphics and text on quality, full-color, plastic calling cards.

Enhance calling options for your students and help promote your institution, celebrate special events, and raise money with these extremely attractive Custom Prepaid Calling Cards. Every long distance call can contribute money towards your institution or student organization.

Depending on the number of cards ordered and the long distance rate chosen, a school or group can raise substantial new revenue using custom prepaid calling cards from NetWolves.

Customer Testimonial

Gisele DiMartino Stancil, Director of Card Services at Eastern Connecticut State University says, "Eastern Connecticut State University needed a long distance solution for our students so that they could call home without having to set up a long distance service for themselves first. The prepaid phone cards from ECCI were the solution we needed. We give these out at check-in to all freshmen and transfers coming to campus for the first time. It was a quick solution and once the cards are distributed there was no further time involved on the part of campus staff."

"You can never have too many opportunities to show your Greek pride around campus!"

– C. Bradford, Phi Delta Theta
